

FOR THE LITTLE ONES

When you think about filling the stockings of the little ones, remember we have the Stockings, as well as a lot of useful and enjoyable presents to fill them.

Don't wait until the last moment, but come as early as you can.

Now is the time to dive into the old stocking and prepare to fill someone else's stocking. From Silk Socks to Silk Hats—here's everything for men's adornment—fine as silk.

NOTES.—There are certain articles of Men's Wear that misses or mothers are apt to buy for the men of the family. They are better judges of Handkerchiefs, Hose, Underwear, Night Shirts, etc. In these special lines we've secured a special stock, and we issue a special invitation to misses and mothers to come here. Selections made for the holidays exchanged cheerfully after Christmas if not what is wanted.

The silence can almost be felt in Montpelier.

State's Attorney Gates of Washington county has made his sixteenth raid for liquor in the past ten weeks. It is not "sweet sixteen," however, for the raid.

It will not be so easy for Attorney General Mayer of New York to dissolve the ice trust. But he will go about it in the same way he would dissolve the ice, i. e., by exposure.

Now that E. W. Gibson has been made judge of the new municipal court in Brattleboro, what lawyer now remains in that bailiwick who has not been provided for? There seems to be a fine field for a real practicing attorney.

If Vermont automobilists will kindly allow themselves to be arrested for breaking the new auto law next spring, they will do just so much toward giving us better roads. We trust we are asking "too much."

A POCKET VETO.

Several hard-fought measures in the Vermont legislature just closed are reported to have died in the governor's pocket, but there will be no general dissatisfaction over the implied veto. On the contrary, the people of the state will thank Governor Proctor for his refusal to sign most of the measures. The list includes several of doubtful wisdom and of uncertain value to the state; among them, a bill to cause the state of Vermont to assist agricultural fairs in payment of premiums; to appropriate an annual sum for the Vermont Improvement society, the amended Rutland city charter, which has not been unanimously desired in that city. On top of these there would, we believe, have been satisfaction had the executive refused to attach his signature to the $10,000 appropriation for Vermont representation at the Jamestown exposition. It will be interesting to note what corner of the state will be represented by this amount of money, for only one corner can be provided for with such an amount. This "pocket veto" is a constitutional prerogative of the executive, the section providing that any bill not returned by him shall become a law after the expiration of five days, "unless the two houses by their adjournment, within three days after the presentation of such a bill, shall prevent its return; in which case it shall not become a law."
